

They took me to the 6th of October hospital, and told me that there was no one beside the reception staff in the hospital. Then they seated me outside the hospital and told me that they were going to bring my husband and come back, but they went and never returned. My pain intensified while I was outside the hospital after they deceived me, when they told me that the hospital would not admit me without my husband. After that, my fetus fell to the ground, and they kept asking me, 'Who brought you here?' and I didn't know them
