

"The unfortunate thing at the police station is that they labeled my son as adulterine child and not a rape victim, and this saddened me deeply."